MISCELLANEOUS.DR. HALL'S BALSAM

Cures Colds, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, and all diseases of the Breathing Organs. It soothes and heals the membranes of the Lungs, inflamed and poisoned by the disease, and prevents the night sweats and tightness across the chest which accompany it. CONSUMPTION is not an incurable malady. It is only necessary to have the right remedy, and HALL'S BALSAM is that remedy. DON'T DESPAIR OF RELIEF, for this benign specific will cure you, even though professional aid fails.

Dr. N. H. Hinsdale.

Keweenaw, Ill., advises us of a remarkable cure of Consumption. He says: "A neighbor's wife was attacked with violent lung disease, and pronounced beyond help from Quack Consumption. As a last resort the family was persuaded to try HALL'S BALSAM. To the astonishment of all, by the time she had used one-half dozen bottles she was about the house doing her own work. I saw her at her worst stage, and had no idea she could recover."

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The demand for silver dollars is increasing. Three hundred thousand more were put out in August, 1880, than in August, 1879. Those which were placed last year came straight back into the Treasury, while none have yet come back this year.

An agricultural fair on wheels, consisting of a finely decorated car containing products from along the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad, arrived at Chicago day before yesterday afternoon and excited much interest. It goes east and will arrive at the New England Fair at Worcester, Massachusetts, on the 7th instant.

On account of a doubt arising respecting the eligibility of Claus Spreckles to be a California Presidential Elector, because of his having received a decoration of honor from the King of the Sandwich Islands, Spreckles has withdrawn from the candidacy. The vacancy has not been filled.

John W. Mackay, who was subpoenaed to appear Aug. 30 as witness in the case of John H. Burke against J. C. Flood, et al., but failed to respond at the appointed time, was served with an order of court directing him to show cause why he should be committed to prison or otherwise punished for contempt in failing to obey the subpoena.

There used to be a saying among the Southern negroes to the effect that "white men are mighty onartin." The same thing applies quite forcibly to the Ute Indians just now. In one breath, as it were, the telegraph to-day informs us that everything is satisfactory between the Commissioners and the Indians, and that the crisis is passed. In the next it gives the details of several murders lately committed by the White River and other tribes, and states that there is widespread alarm among the settlers. Perhaps, after all, it may be the telegraph reporters that are so uncertain, and not the Indians.

We welcome Mr. Arthur McEwen, of the Virginia Chronicle to this country, and trust that he will ever enjoy all the rights and privileges usually extended to citizens of the most favored nations. Mr. McEwen yesterday took out his final papers in the Storey county court as a citizen of the U. S. It has long been a matter of surprise how Mr. McEwen knew so much about social, political and religious affairs of this nation, but it is now made clear to us. But being a citizen now ought to improve him.

Several prominent Democrats have been named on the committee to receive President Hayes when he visits Sacramento. This is right and proper. Whatever may be the political differences of Americans, they should all unite in paying proper respect to the Chief Magistrate of the Nation on an occasion of this kind.

They have had to construct an addition to the great register of San Francisco, in order to accommodate an anxious voter named Cleofas Enrique Thomas Williams Jose Antonio Estudillo Mendoza Navarete, a native Californian, who wants to vote for General Garfield. If that name could be voted in sections it might insure the General's election.

In an address just published, the San Francisco Freeholders say that at the present mortality rate in that city there will be thirty thousand bodies buried in the graveyards within the heart of the city by 1895, and that after that date interments should cease. How can a city expect to maintain a reputation for health with a graveyard of that extent almost in its center?

The meeting of the Army of the Cumberland in Toledo, O., in the latter part of the month promises to be a national gathering. Generals Grant, Sheridan, Sherman and Garfield have already promised to attend. It is thought General Hancock will also be there.

Nevada county has three huge elephants on her hands. They escaped from the circus at Colfax and are now roaming through the Sierras.

A Washington dispatch says the public debt statement shows a decrease during August of $12,027,169.

A SUGGESTION.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—President Hayes will be along this way in a few days. His visit to this coast is for the double purpose of pleasure and observation. He has always shown a desire to learn fully the requirements and circumstances of every matter of public interest, and doubtless he will come West with this object still before him, and will view the, to us, all-important Chinese question. He should see it as it is in all its filth and hideousness. An abundant opportunity to see how this scourge actually exists cannot be afforded him if he does as too many Eastern people do—come here and between the big dinners and dances hear a few remarks about a matter and then with probably a few glances at the surface, go back with an idea that they are fully conversant with it. Let the President's investigation of the Chinese quarter of San Francisco be a thorough one. Let him go—incog. if necessary—and see for himself how the wretches live. Let him see their opium dens, their sleeping apartments, see fifty or more men, women and children crammed into damp, stinking holes where one ought not to live. Let him see to what depths of degradation they have fallen. Let him become conversant with the worst forms of slavery the world ever saw. In short, let him see and know the hideousness of this leper as we of this coast see it, and we need not fear the result. Mr. Hayes would go back to Washington and would open the eyes of the world with a paragraph in his next message to Congress.

It might be urged that it is beneath the dignity of the President of the United States to do such a thing. This is easily answered by saying that to study a subject one must go where it is best presented. With the object of learning the habits of the Chinese in view, President Hayes could do no better than to follow the course I have marked out, and the police force of San Francisco would afford him all protection and facilities to do so.

JOHN SMITH.

A Glorious Discovery

Every once in a while an invention is presented to the public that does much to smooth down the rough spots of one's life. The last is an invention to take the redness out of the end of the nose. How many a poor mortal has spent hours in gazing at the blossom that was bidding fair to rival a headlight for brilliancy. To all such the new discovery will come as a boon of great value. The Journal of Chemistry thus alludes to it:

Meryl is the name of a secret preparation to bleach red noses. It has been examined, and found to consist of a liquid containing benzoic acid, salicylic acid, and thymol, and a powder composed of oxide of zinc, French chalk, and a trace of carbolic acid. It is evident that the discoverer of meryl thinks the red color of the nose to be due to a beginning of decomposition, since all the aromatic antiseptics enter into all the preparation of his nostrum.

The Miners Unions' picnic next Sunday will be unusually interesting. There will be two games of baseball besides all kinds of other sports. The shooting tournament will attract more than usual attention.

HEIR TO MILLIONS.

The Quaker City has had an heir to $4,000,000 among its people for several years. A young man in moderate circumstances, named Wm. J. Carlin, and residing with his mother on Mount Vernon street, is in receipt of letters from London which point to the probability of his succession to the estate of an Australian millionaire. The testator, Alfred B. Carlin, a bachelor, reported to be worth not less than $4,000,000, was known up to the time of his death as the king of stock breeders in Australia, and lived in a way becoming his great wealth on a vast estate near Wagga Wagga, in that country. His name will be remembered by those who were interested in the famous Tielborne estates, appearing as the man who first employed Arthur Orton as a herder on his alleged arrival in Australia, and whose testimony as to the personal appearance of Orton when he first saw him corresponded with Lady Tielborne's description of her son and heir as she knew him before he left home. According to Dr. Kenaly, Orton's counsel, over $100,000 was contributed by Carlin to enable the claimant to establish his heirship. Nothing was known of Alfred Carlin's antecedents among the few with whom he associated, but he was generally supposed to be without relatives. Shortly after his death, however, a will was produced by his attorneys, Browne & Salsby, in Wagga Wagga, directing the sale of his property and payment of the proceeds to his heirs, whom he named. Efforts were at once made by the attorneys to place themselves in communication with Mr. Carlin's heir and the result, after considerable trouble and delay, was that early last January a letter was received by William J. Carlin at his Mount Vernon street residence from a firm of solicitors in London setting forth the demise of his uncle and requesting him to prove his identity, and thus his claim to the inheritance. After recovering from his astonishment Mr. Carlin, who had never heard of this uncle, took the letter to his mother. She recalled references to a brother which her husband once made during his lifetime, and advised her son to answer the letter. The result has been a continued correspondence and the probable settlement of the property upon the heir within a couple of months.

A THRILLING INCIDENT.

Garfield's Power as an Orator—How He Appeared a Mob in New York City in April, 1865, and Saved the "World" Office—The Man for the Crisis.

The following reminiscence of General Garfield's power during the greatest crisis the country ever passed through, has been furnished by a distinguished gentleman who was present, and shows the intellectual and moral power of the Republican nominee for the Presidency over a surging and maddened crowd:

"I shall never forget the first time I saw General Garfield. It was the morning after President Lincoln's assassination. The country was excited to its utmost tension, and New York seemed ready for the scenes of the French revolution. The intelligence of Lincoln's murder had been flashed by the wires over the whole land. The newspaper headlines of the transactions were set up in the largest type, and the high crime was on every one's tongue. Fear took possession of men's minds as to the fate of the Government, for in a few hours news came on that Seward's throat was cut and that attempts had been made upon the lives of others of the Government officers. Posters were stuck up everywhere, in great black letters, calling upon the loyal citizens of New York, Brooklyn, Jersey City and neighboring places to meet around the Wall Street Exchange to give expression to their sentiments. It was a dark and terrible hour. What might come next no one could tell, and men spoke with bated breath. The wrath of the workmen was simply uncontrollable, and revolvers and knives were in the hands of thousands of Lincoln's friends, ready at the first opportunity to take the law into their own hands and avenge the death of the martyred President upon any and all who dared to utter a word against him."

A JAM OF FIFTY THOUSAND PEOPLE.

"Eleven o'clock A. M. was the hour set for the rendezvous. Fifty thousand people crowded around the Exchange Building, cramping and jamming the streets, and wedged in tight as men could stand together. With a few to whom a special favor was extended, I went over from Brooklyn at nine A. M., and, even then, with the utmost difficulty, found way to the reception room for the speakers in the front of the Exchange Building, and looking out upon the high and massive balcony whose front was protected by a heavy iron railing, we sat in solemnity and silence, waiting for General Butler, who, it was announced, had started from Washington and was either already in the city, or expected every moment. Nearly a hundred generals, judges, statesmen, editors, clergymen and others, were in that room waiting Butler's arrival. We stepped out to the balcony to watch the fearfully solemn and swaying mass of people. Not a hurrah was heard, but for the most part dead silence, or

A DEEP OMINOUS MUTTERING

Ran like a rising wave up the street toward Broadway, and again down toward the river on the right.

"At length the batons of the police were seen swinging in the air, far up to the left, parting the crowd and pressing it back to make way for a carriage that moved slowly and with difficult jogs, through the compact multitude. Suddenly the silence was broken and the cry of 'Butler! Butler!' rang out with tremendous and thrilling effect, and was taken up by the people. 'But not a hurrah! Not one! It was the cry of a great people, asking to know how their President died. The blood bounded in our veins, and the tears ran like streams down our faces. How it was done I forget, but Butler was pulled through, and pulled up, and entered the room, where we had just walked back to meet him. A broad craps, a yard long, hung from his left arm—terrible contrast with the countless flags that were waving the nation's victory in the breeze. We first realized then the truth of the sad news that Lincoln was dead. When Butler entered the room we shook hands. Some spoke, some couldn't. All were in tears. The only word Butler had for us all at the first break of the silence was: 'Gentlemen, he died in the fullness of his faith' and as he spoke his lips quivered, and the tears ran down his cheeks.

"Then, after a few moments, came the speaking. And you can imagine the effect, as the crane fluttered in the wind, while his arm was uplifted, Dickinson, of New York State, was nearly wild. The old man leaped over the iron railing of the balcony and stood on the very edge overhanging the crowd, gestulating in the most vehement manner, and next thing to bidding the crowd 'burn up the rebel seed, root and branch,' while a bystander held on to his coat-tails to keep him from falling over. By this time

THE WAVE OF POPULAR INDIGNATION HAD SWELLED TO ITS CREST.

Two men lay bleeding on one of the side streets, the one dead, the other next to dying; one on the pavement, the other in the gutter. They had said a moment before that 'Lincoln ought to have been shot long ago!' They were not allowed to say it again! Soon two long pieces of scuffling stood out above the heads of the crowd, crossed at the top like the letter X, and a loupéd halter pendant from the junction, a dozen men following its slow motion, through the masses, while 'Vengeance!' was the cry.

On the right, suddenly, the shout rose, 'The World! The World! The office of The World! World! World!' and a movement of perhaps eight or ten thousand turning their faces, in the direction of that building began to be executed. It was critical.

A CRITICAL MOMENT.

What might come no one could tell, and that crowd got in front of that office. Police and military would have availed little or been too late. A telegram had just been read from Washington, 'Seward is dying.' Just then, at that juncture, a man stepped forward with a small flag in his hand, and beckoned to the crowd, 'Another telegram from Washington! And then, in the awful stillness of the crisis, taking advantage of the hesitation of the crowd, whose steps had been arrested a moment, a right arm was lifted skyward, and a voice clear and steady, loud and distinct, spoke out: 'Fellow citizens! Clouds and darkness are round about him! His pavilion is dark waters and thick clouds of the skies! Justice and judgment are the establishment of His throne! Mercy and truth shall go before His face! Fellow citizens! God reigns, and the Government at Washington still lives!'

THE EFFECT WAS TREMENDOUS.

The crowd stood riveted to the ground in awe, gazing at the motionless orator, and thinking of God and the security of the Government in that hour. As the boiling wave subsides and settles to the sea when strong wind beats it down, so the tumult of the people sank and became still. All took it as a divine omen. It was a triumph of eloquence, inspired by the moment, such as falls to but one man's lot, and that but once in a century. The genius of Webster, Choate, Everett, Seward, never reached it. Demosthenes never equalled it. What might have happened had the surging and maddened mob been loose, none can tell. The man for the crisis was on the spot, more potent than Napoleon's guns at Paris. I inquired what was his name. The answer came in a low whisper, 'It is General Garfield, of Ohio!'

Presidential Visit.

Preparations to receive the President in Virginia City are on an extensive scale. He will be the guest of John W. Mackay at Virginia City, Nevada, for one day on his return to California. He will be in San Francisco on the 9th or 10th, where there will be a military and civic parade. The President's party consists of 10 persons. They go to Yosemite. On their return Secretary Sherman goes East. The President and others go to Oregon, thence to Arizona probably, though on account of the roads the trip in Arizona may be altered somewhat.

C. & C. R. R.

E. F. Reed came to town last night from the railroad camp at Walker River. He reports that the grading is being pushed ahead at the rate of a mile and a half a day and that everything is progressing finely. Five hundred men have been employed for some time past, but 200 more are to be added immediately. With anything like ordinary weather this winter they will be to Candalaria by Jan. 1st. Track laying will commence shortly.

Open to the Public.

The new school building will not be open for the public inspection on Saturday as previously stated, because the workmen will not be through in time, but on Sunday it will be open all day, when the public may visit it and see for themselves what a fine temple of learning Reno has reared.

For Constable.

John Frazier is a candidate for Constable of Reno Township, subject to the decision of the Republican Convention. "Jack" Frazier is a Republican of 27 years standing, as square a man as walks the earth and if elected will do justice to himself and the position.

A surveying party of ten men was fitted out yesterday to work on the line of the Nevada and Oregon Railroad. They will go to the Oregon line. The work is expected to occupy about three months.

Dr. Dawson has returned from Clover Valley, where he had been in attendance on Nels. Hammond. Mr. Hammond had a severe attack of erysipelas. He was better when the doctor left.

About 100 listened to Dr. Hogan's greenback speech in Reform Club Hall last night. The Dr. read his remarks from manuscript and was listened to with marked attention.

Weed, of the Susanville Advocate, came in last evening, and continued on to San Francisco, to purchase the material for his new Greenville paper.

A. C. McFarlin has lost a blank receipt book of the South Side Canal Co. and will suitably reward the finder.

The Reno Fair will commence Monday, September 27 and close Saturday October 2.

Will the frost kill the fruit—that's the question.

School will open next Monday.

The Convention meets in the Pavilion next Wednesday.

Close Call.

E. F. Reed related to us a little adventure he had last Monday night while a passenger on the Mason Valley stage. He was occupying the seat of honor beside the driver, and when near Cold Valley saw two men suddenly rise up beside the road and order them to halt. The horses became scared at the apparition and became unmanageable, nor was the driver very anxious to hold them in check. They ran away and when the robbers saw that the stage did not stop they opened fire. One ball whizzed between the heads of the two men on the driver's seat, diagonally. Reed said it came so close to his right ear that he could hear nothing else for an hour after. The horses made No. 1 time and the artillery was soon out of range. This is the occurrence reported in the Comstock papers, though they did not get it just correct. Reed is well and happy, but does not want any more of that in his.

Two pans and a settler arrived on the V. & T. train yesterday from Carson for the J. & K. mill.

The Democratic primaries will be held on Saturday. Voters will then scratch only ten names from the tickets.

The new bank is having its quarters raisomined.

A War Heroine.

Some months since the JOURNAL gave an extended account of the adventures of "Mother Bickerdyke," a lady who devoted herself to the relief of the Union armies during the rebellion. This famous heroine has been a resident of Reno for two years past. J. G. Lemmon the botanist, met her while here and has written to the San Francisco Bulletin concerning her. A book called "Women of the War" contains a chapter telling of her exploits. Following is Mr. Lemmon's communication:

Editor BULLETIN: While at Reno the other day I had the good fortune to meet with "Mother Bickerdyke," as the Union boys used to call her. No adult lover of his country needs to be told who this lady is, or what her eventful and woeful history. Living at Galesburg, Ill., at the time of the breaking out of the rebellion, she at once hastened into the field, bearing a commission from the Governor of her State as Matron of Field Hospitals. So discriminating, careful and executive was she that she soon won the confidence of the general officers, who acquiesced in and generally assisted in carrying out her measures of relief. She was always at her post in the front, often exposed to direct fire, and made a target for rebel bullets, but was spared to perform much needed work all through the war and since. Thousands of soldiers came under her immediate care, and as she moved busily from point to point, now establishing a field hospital, now bringing up trains of supplies, she often came in contact with officers, but always to conquer and to carry on her humane work.

She had a theory that for all bad business, delinquency, or cruelty, some officer was to blame. If an orderly drove off one of her dairy cows (of which she always had several hundred on hand), she sent a provost guard after both the cow and the orderly's officer. She once punished a drunken surgeon by placing him under a umbrella to sit for two hours on a pile of garbage which he had allowed to accumulate. He was very angry, and when released, went down to Sherman's headquarters and entered complaint. "Who do you say, punished you?" asked the General. "Mother Bickerdyke," replied the surgeon. "Oh, well," rejoined Sherman, with a laugh. "You had better resign and go home. 'Mother Bickerdyke' is always right in her judgment, and besides, there is no help for you, for she out-ranks me."

"Mother Bickerdyke," as she will always be called, happened at the Reno depot when Secretary Schurz passed home lately. Eagerly the great statesman pressed through the throng, and in loud tones called her up to him and gave her such a greeting as few American women may claim. True to her instincts, Mrs. Bickerdyke soon began to lecture him upon certain duties which, she thinks, devolves upon him to perform, the while several voices called out from the train: "Well, well! There's our grand old 'Mother Bickerdyke' of the army hospital, and she's at her old business too, of commanding officers!" and each pressed forward to grasp her hand and claim recognition.

Mrs. B. is now 60 years old, rather stout, but hearty and active as ever. She comes of a long-lived family, and expects fifteen or twenty years of busy life yet. She has been foremost in establishing hospitals and orphan asylums in the East, and is now engaged in improving our school system, offering plans so wise and simple that our legislators will do well to hear and heed.

J. G. LEMMON.

For Constable.

W. H. McManis is a candidate for Constable, subject to the Republican Convention. Of this gentleman it can safely be said he would make a good and faithful officer, if elected, and would prove himself worthy of the confidence imposed.

D. Banks McKenzie will deliver an address on "Past and Future" at the Baptist Church next Sunday evening. It is intended especially for the irreligious and ungodly.—Gazette.

"It is intended for the irreligious and ungodly." I look upon that last sentence as a gross insult to the citizens of Reno, especially to the members of the Baptist Church and congregation. All I need say is, my talk for Sunday night has been gotten up for the purpose, if possible, to cheer our people, and as an incentive to brave endeavors, not for the ungodly but for the citizens. I hope and pray I may in the hand of God be able to cheer you in our darkest hours. I am yours,

D. BANKS MCKENZIE.

A new water pipe has been laid between the railroad tracks from Sierra street down to the water tank. The old one had rusted out.

D. Banks McKenzie will deliver an address on "Past and Future" at the Baptist Church next Sunday evening.

Mother! Mother! Mother!!! Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the little sufferer at once—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the addition of Potash and Iron, makes a most effective cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions on the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Eruptions of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Throat, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Blisters, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring-worm, Eczema and Scrofula, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Sides and Head, Female Weakness, Skin eruptions arising from internal irritation and various diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

YOUNG MEN

WHO MAY BE SUFFERING FROM THE effects of youthful folly or indiscretion will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY will guarantee a cure for all cases of Seminal Weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in consequence of the loss of vitality. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milky hue, again suggesting to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genital urinary organs.

Chronic Rheumatism—13 to 4 and 6 to 8. Sundays from 10 to 11 A.M. Consultation free. Thorough examination and advice, 50.

For private diseases of short standing a full course of medicine, sufficient for a cure, will be given at once, on only oral and terms on receipt of $10.

Resolutions Adopted by the Republican State Convention:

Resolved, That the platform of principles adopted by the National Republican Convention at Chicago in June deserves and receives the approval and hearty endorsement of all Republicans of Nevada.

Resolved, That the honors of Chinese that are coming in upon our shores to our substance are destroying our country, impoverishing our mines, miners and laborers, debauching our youth and making both men and women lower in the scale of humanity. That evil must be preserved. That the peace regained should be cherished. That the disordered Union, now happily restored, should be perpetuated, and that the liberties secured to this generation should be transmitted to the future generations. That the order established and the credit acquired should never be imperiled. That the pensions promised should be paid. That the debt so much reduced should be extinguished by the full payment of every dollar thereof. That the reviving industries should be further promoted, and that the commerce already so great should be steadily encouraged.

A NATION, NOT A CONFEDERACY.

Second—The Constitution of the United States is the supreme law, and not a mere contract. Out of the confederated States it made a sovereign nation. Some powers are denied to the nation, while others are retained by the States; but the boundary between the powers delegated and those reserved is to be determined by National and not by State tribunals.

REGULAR EDUCATION.

Third—The work of popular education is one left to the care of the several States; but it is the duty of the National Government to aid that work to the extent of its constitutional ability. The intelligence of the nation is but the aggregate of the intelligence in the several States, and the destiny of the nation must be guided, not by the genius of any one State, but by the average genius of all.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

Fourth—The Constitution wisely forbids Congress to make any law respecting an establishment of religion, but it is idle to hope that the nation can be protected against the influence of sectarianism, while each State is exposed to its partiality. We therefore recommend that the Constitution be so amended as to lay some prohibitions upon the legislatures of each State, and to forbid the appropriation of the public funds to the support of sectarian schools.

DUTIES OF THE DAY.

Fifth—We reaffirm the belief avowed in 1876, that the duties levied for the purpose of revenue should so discriminate as to favor American labor. That no further grant of the public domain should be made to any railroad or other corporation. That slavery having been abolished in the States, its twin barbarity, polygamy, must die in the Territories. That everywhere the protection accorded to a citizen of American birth must be secured to citizens of American adoption. That the United States should improve our waterways and harbors, but we insist that further subsidies to private persons or corporations must cease. That the obligations to the men who preserved its integrity in the late war are undiminished by the lapse of fifteen years since their final victory. Their patriotic honor is and shall forever be the great privilege and sacred duty of the American people.

OUR CHINESE PLANK.

Sixth—Since the authority to regulate immigration and intercourse between the United States and foreign nations rests with the Congress and the Executive, and the treaty-making powers, that the Republican party, regarding the unrestricted immigration of Chinese as an evil, great national disaster, and a menace to the well-being of the nation, we propose to restrain and limit that immigration by the enactment of such just, humane and reasonable provisions as will produce that result.

COMMEMORATION OF HAYES.

Seventh—That the purity and patriotism which characterized the earlier career of Rutherford B. Hayes in peace and war, and which guided the thought of his public life, and which made him a Presidential candidate, have continued to inspire him in his career as Chief Executive, and that history will record to his administration the honors which are due to an efficient, just and courageous fulfillment of the duties of his office.

ABOLITION OF THE DEMOCRACY.

Eighth—We charge upon the Democratic party the habitual sacrifice of patriotism and justice to a supreme and unobtainable lust for office and patronage, that to obtain possession of the National and State governments, they have constructed all the efforts to preserve the purity and conserve the freedom of our nation; have devised fraudulent certificates and returns; have labored to unsseat lawfully elected members of Congress, to secure the election of their favorites to the Assembly of the States in the House of Representatives; have endeavored to occupy by force and fraud places of trust given to others by the people of Maine, and received by the courage and action of Maine's patriotic sons; have by fraudulent means, in principle and in practice, attached particular legislation to appropriation bills; have trampled the rights of individuals, and vindicated the principles and sought the favor of rebellion against the nation; and have endeavored to obliterate the sacred memories of the war, and to overcome its inestimable good results—freedom and individual equality. We affirm it to be the duty and purpose of the Republican party to use all the legitimate means of the United States to secure the perfect harmony which may be practicable, and we submit to the practical, sensible people of the United States to say whether it would not be dangerous to the best interest of our country at this time to have the administration of the Government to a party which seeks to overthrow the existing policy under which we are so prosperous, and thus bring destruction and confusion where there is now order, confidence and hope.

NINTH—The equal and steady, and complete enforcement of the laws and the protection of all citizens in the enjoyment of all privileges and immunities guaranteed by the Constitution, are the first duties of the nation.

TENTH—The dangers of a "Solid South" can only be averted by a faithful performance of the duties of the laws, and the punishment of all those who violate them, are the only safe methods by which an enduring peace can be secured and genuine prosperity established throughout the South. Whatever promises the nation makes the nation must perform. A nation cannot with safety relegate this duty to the States. The "Solid South" must be divided by the peaceful agencies of the ballot, and all honest citizens must stand by the rules of the Constitution. To this end the honest voter must be protected against terrorism, violence or fraud.

ELEVENTH—And we affirm it to be the duty and purpose of the Republican party to use all legitimate means to restore all the States of the Union to the most perfect harmony which may be possible, and we submit to the practical, sensible people of these United States to say whether it would not be dangerous to the interest of our country at this time to have the administration of the Government to a party which seeks to overthrow the existing policy under which we are so prosperous, and thus bring destruction and confusion where there is now order, confidence and hope.

Twelfth—The Republican party, in its National Convention of respect for the constitutional rules governing appointments to office, deplete the declaration of President Hayes that the reform of the civil service shall be the foremost radical principle of the administration. To this end and the cooperation of the legislative with the executive departments of the Government, and that Congress shall so legislate that fitness, ascertained by proper practical tests, shall abide to the public service.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

THE FOLLOWING IS THE PLATFORM of the National Republican Party adopted by the Chicago Convention:

Republican rule has restored upon a solid basis payment in coin for all the national obligations and has given us a currency absolutely good and legal, and equal in every part of our extended country. It has lifted the credit of the nation from the point where six per cent. bonds sold at 55 to a point where four per cent. bonds are eagerly sought at a premium. Under its administration railways have increased from 31,000 miles in 1860 to more than 82,000 miles in 1879. Our foreign trade has increased from $700,000,000 to $1,100,000,000 in the same time, and our exports, which were $28,000,000 less than our imports in 1879. Without resorting to loans, it has, since the war closed, defrayed the ordinary expenses of Government, besides the accruing interest on the public debt, and discharged annually more than $80,000,000 for soldiers' pensions. It has paid $880,000,000 of the public debt, and by refunding the balance at lower rates has reduced the annual interest charge from nearly $140,000,000 to less than $80,000,000. All the industries of the country have revived; labor is in demand; wages have increased, and throughout the entire country there is evidence of a coming prosperity greater than we have ever enjoyed. Upon this record the Republican party asks for the continued confidence and support of the people, and this Convention submits for their approval the following statements of the principle and purpose which will continue to guide and inspire its efforts:

THE REPUBLICAN POLICY.

First—We affirm that the work of the last twenty-one years has been such as to commend itself to the favor of the nation, and that the fruits of the costly victories which we have achieved through our national difficulties have been preserved. That the peace regained should be cherished. That the disordered Union, now happily restored, should be perpetuated, and that the liberties secured to this generation should be transmitted to the future generations. That the order established and the credit acquired should never be imperiled. That the pensions promised should be paid. That the debt so much reduced should be extinguished by the full payment of every dollar thereof. That the reviving industries should be further promoted, and that the commerce already so great should be steadily encouraged.
